WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 9, 1861.

LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL OF INDIA.

THE following Act, passed by the Legislative Council of India, received the assent of the Right Honorable the Governor-General on the 26th December 1860, and is hereby promulgated for general information :—

Act No. XLVIII of 1860.

An Act to amend Act XIII of 1856 (for regulating the Police of the Towns of Calcutta, Madras, and Bombay, and the several Stations of the Settlement of Prince of Wales' Island, Singapore, and Malacca.)

WHEREAS it is expedient to amend certain provisions of Act XIII of 1856; It is enacted as follows :—

I. Sections XIII, XV, XXXII, XXXIII, XXXIV, XXXVIII, XXXIX, XL, XLIII, L, LI, LII, LV, LIX, LXVII, LXXV, LXXVI, LXXVIII, LXXXI, LXXXII, XCIX, CV, CXII, and CXV, of Act XIII of 1856 (for regulating the Police of the Towns of Calcutta, Madras, and Bombay, and the several Stations of the Settlement of Prince of Wales' Island, Singapore, and Malacca), are repealed, and the following Sections shall be read with and taken as part of the said Act XIII of 1856.

II. Whoever, being a member of the Police Force, or being employed in any Police Office, asks for or takes any bribe or unauthorized reward, may be dismissed by order of the Commissioner, and upon conviction before a Magistrate shall be liable to a fine not exceeding five hundred Rupees, or to imprisonment with or without hard labor for any term not exceeding six months.

III. No member of the Police Force, to be enrolled under this Act, shall be at liberty to resign his office, or to withdraw himself from the duties thereof, unless expressly allowed so to do in writing by the Commissioner, or unless he shall have given to the Commissioner six months' notice of his intention if a member of the mounted branch of the said Force; and two months' notice if a member of any other branch; and every member of the said Force, who shall so resign or withdraw himself without such leave or notice, shall be liable, on the order of the Commissioner, to forfeit all arrears of pay then due to him; and, on the sentence of a Magistrate, if such Magistrate shall think fit, to pay a fine not exceeding fifty Rupees, or to be imprisoned with or without hard labor for any term not exceeding two months.

IV. ~~Section 1.~~—Whenever in the Towns of Calcutta and Madras, or in any of the Stations of the Straits' Settlement any person is charged before the Magistrate with having committed any of the offences mentioned in Sections XXVII, XXVIII, and XXIX of Act XIII of 1856, or with having committed within the local limits of the Supreme Court or of the Courts of Judicature of such Stations the offence mentioned in Section V of Act XXXI of 1838, and by reason of the value of the property charged to have been stolen, embezzled, misapplied, or obtained or attempted to be obtained under false pretences, or for any other cause, the offence is not by law summarily cognizable by a single Magistrate, and some material witness is about to sail from the Port, it shall be lawful for two Magistrates, upon proof of the matters aforesaid, if they shall deem it probable (with reference to the time appointed for the departure of the ship or vessel in which such witness is about to sail) that the prosecution by indictment in the Supreme Court or in the Court of Judicature of the person so charged will be ineffectual in consequence of the absence of such material witness, to hear and determine the charge summarily under this Act, and, on conviction, to sentence the offender to imprisonment with or without hard labor for a term not exceeding twelve months, and in cases falling under the said Section XXVII, also to sentence such offender, if a male, to corporal punishment not exceeding thirty stripes of a rattan.

Clause 2. In the Town of Bombay a Magistrate may commit persons charged with such offences as aforesaid for trial before the Court of Petty Sessions, and the said Court may, on conviction, sentence the offender to a like term of imprisonment or punishment.

Similar charges at Bombay to be tried by the Petty Sessions.

Clause 3. It shall be lawful for the said two Magistrates and the said Court of Petty Sessions respectively, if they deem that the charge is from any circumstances fit to be made the subject of prosecution by indictment rather than to be summarily disposed of, to commit the person charged for trial before the Supreme Court or Court of Judicature.

V. Upon a conviction for any of the offences mentioned in Sections XXVII, XXVIII, and XXIX of Act XIII of 1856, or under the foregoing Section of this Act, the Magistrate or Magistrates, (as the case may be), and in Bombay the Court of Petty Sessions in cases committed to that Court, may order the restitution of the property forming the subject of the charge, if forthcoming, to the owner; and in case of its not being restored pursuant to such order, may impose on any person refusing or neglecting to restore the same, a fine not exceeding the value of the said property, which the Magistrate or Court may order to be paid to the owner or his representative.

VI. Upon a conviction for any of the offences mentioned in Sections XXVII, XXVIII, and XXIX of Act XIII of 1856, and in Section IV of this Act, the Magistrate or Magistrates, (as the case may be), and in Bombay the Court of Petty Sessions in cases committed to that Court, may impose upon the offender, in addition to the punishment for the offence, a fine not exceeding the loss appearing to be caused to the persons who have suffered thereby, and may pay or distribute the proceeds of the said fine or any part thereof, to or for the benefit of the said persons.

VII. Whoever assaults or resists, or aids or incites any person to assault or resist, any Police Officer in the execution of his duty, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding two hundred Rupees, or to imprisonment with or without hard labor for any term not exceeding six months; and if the offender shall at the time of committing the offence be undergoing a former sentence, of imprisonment, the imprisonment awarded under this Section shall commence and take effect from and after the expiration of such former sentence.

VIII. Whoever escapes or attempts to escape from or out of any legal custody, shall be liable to be imprisoned with or without hard labor for any term not exceeding three months; and such imprisonment shall commence and take effect from and after the expiration of any sentence of imprisonment under which such person may be confined at the time of committing the offence aforesaid.

X. If any person, having sufficient means, neglects or refuses to maintain his wife or any legitimate or illegitimate child unable to maintain himself, it shall be lawful for a Magistrate, upon due proof thereof, to order such person to make a monthly allowance for the maintenance of his wife or such child as aforesaid, at such rate, not exceeding fifty Rupees in the whole, as to the Magistrate shall seem reasonable; and if such person shall wilfully neglect to comply with the said order, the Magistrate may, by warrant, direct the amount due to be levied in the manner hereinafter provided for levying fines; or may order him to be imprisoned with or without hard labor for any term not exceeding one month. Provided always that any such person shall be at liberty to apply to the Magistrate, from time to time, for a reduction of such monthly allowance, on proof of an alteration in the circumstances of himself, his wife, or child, justifying such reduction. Provided also that, if such person offers to maintain his wife on condition of her living with him, and his wife shall refuse to live with him, it shall be lawful for the Magistrate to consider any grounds of refusal stated by such wife, and he may make the order aforesaid, notwithstanding such offer aforesaid, if he shall be satisfied that such person is living in adultery or that he has habitually treated his wife with cruelty.

Tender of amends. shall recover in any such action, if tender of sufficient amends shall have been made before such action brought, or if a sufficient sum of money shall have been paid into Court after such action brought by or on behalf of the defendant; and if a verdict shall pass for the defendant, or the plaintiff shall Costs. become nonsuit, or discontinue any such action after issue joined, or if, upon demurrer or otherwise, judgment shall be given against the plaintiff, the defendant shall recover his full costs as between attorney and client, and have the like remedy for the same as any defendant hath by law in other cases; and though a verdict shall be given for the plaintiff in any such action, such plaintiff shall not have costs against the defendant, unless the Judge, before whom the trial shall be, shall certify his approbation of the action, and of the verdict obtained thereupon.

Resolution.—1. It having been stated in the Oudh Gazette of the 20th June last, that an action for libel had been or was about to be instituted against the Proprietors of that Newspaper by Ramdyal, an Extra Assistant Commissioner at Lucknow, the Chief Commissioner of Oudh was desired on the 28th of that month to report what were the grounds of the action, and whether it was instituted by Ramdyal of his own accord, or with the cognizance or sanction of his superiors.
Enquiry was at the same time made whether a letter published in the Oudh Gazette, and bearing the signature of Mr. C. A. Elliott, the City Magistrate of Lucknow, was sent to the Editor on the writer's sole judgment, or with the sanction or cognizance of his superiors.

2. In reply to this requisition, the Officiating Chief Commissioner, Lieutenant-Colonel Barrow, in the absence of the Chief Commissioner Mr. Wingfield, explained that the action

Letter No. 1417, of July 11th, 1860, for libel arose out of charges of tyrannous oppression and corruption made by the Press against the Extra Assistant, who considered his private character to have been thereby assailed, and who had of his own motion, and without the cognizance or advice of his superiors, prosecuted the Proprietors of the Press. The Officiating Chief Commissioner would have deprecated the prosecution if Ramdyal's intention had come to his knowledge in time, or if he had been consulted in the matter; but the suit having been once instituted, he abstained, and desired all Government Officials to abstain from the slightest interference in the matter. He was advised, from enquiries he had instituted, that the Revenue Authorities had acted within the powers granted to them by Law for the collection of the 'Trades' Tax; and having satisfied himself that the Extra Assistant had properly conducted his official duties, he would not debar that Officer from the privilege of protecting his "private character."

With regard to the letter signed by Mr.
Elliott, and published in the Oudh Gazette, the Officiating Chief Commissioner reported that it had been sent to the Newspaper by that Officer of his own act, with a view to show that the charges of oppression said to have been practised within his jurisdiction were false.

3. The Chief Commissioner was informed in reply, on the 20th July, that, although the Governor General in Council regretted that the action had been brought against the Proprietors and Publishers of the Oudh Gazette, yet His Excellency in Council was of opinion that, under present circumstances, the case should be allowed to take its course, and that the Government should abstain from all interference. The instructions which the Officiating Chief Commissioner had issued to his Subordinates not to write to the Press in their official capacity for the future without his permission were fully approved.

4. In another letter, the Officiating Chief Commissioner brought to the notice of Government certain proceedings of the Police Officers of Lucknow, in connection with the collection of the new Tax. These proceedings were shortly as follows. On the appearance of Mr. Elliott's letter in the Oudh Gazette, Captain Chamberlain, the District Superintendent of Police, addressed a letter to Lieutenant Scott, the Superintendent of City Police, enquiring whether the assertions made in the Oudh Gazette were true or not. He at the same time directed a Duffadar of his Corps, who had relations in the City, to make enquiries into the matter; and he also directed his Native Deputy Superintendent, Nussceerwanjee, to institute an investigation, but to make no mention of his proceedings in the Police Diaries. The Deputy Commissioner, Mr. P. Carnegie, having heard that the Native Deputy Superintendent of Police had summoned complainants and recorded their evidence, reported the fact to the Commissioner, Lieutenant-Colonel Abbott, who called on Captain Chamberlain in the presence of the Chief of Police to answer for his conduct. Lieutenant-Colonel Abbott desired Captain Chamberlain to forward to him all the papers connected with this investigation, and reported the matter to the Officiating Chief Commissioner. The Chief of Police at the same time forwarded, for the Officiating Chief Commissioner's information, Captain Chamberlain's letter to Lieutenant Scott above alluded to, and Lieutenant Scott's reply. On receipt of these papers, the Officiating Chief Commissioner directed the Chief of Police immediately to remove Captain Chamberlain from the charge of the Lucknow District Police, and to appoint him to the District of Suhaupore. He also forwarded to the Commissioner, Lieutenant-Colonel Abbott, the letter of Lieutenant Scott, in which that Officer asserted the truth of all the statements made in the Oudh Gazette and contradicted by Mr. Elliott, and he directed Lieutenant-Colonel Abbott to institute enquiries into the matter, and to report the result of any investigation he might make into the complaints preferred before the Native Deputy Superintendent of Police. In execution of this direction, the Commissioner reported that Lieutenant Scott, on being questioned as to the proof or authority on which he asserted that the statements made in the Oudh Gazette were true, acknowledged that he had taken no steps to ascertain from the parties injured the truth of such statements, but had relied entirely on the information he received from his Police, who had heard it generally rumoured that oppression had been used. With one exception, the residents of the Mohalla, who were examined by the Deputy Superintendent of Police, affirmed that they had not voluntarily complained to him but were summoned by his Agent, and Captain Chamberlain admitted to the Commissioner that he had sent his Agents to invite complaints against the Tax. The Officiating Chief Commissioner, Lieutenant-Colonel Barrow, considered Captain Chamberlain's conduct in the matter to be the more open to censure from the fact of his having been more than once warned that the subject of the Tax was not to be taken up by the Police in any way; and Lieutenant-Colonel Barrow concluded by remarking that the investigations clearly proved that, on the occasion in question, Ramdyal was guilty of no illegal act, and that his proceedings were not attended with any undue harshness.

5. On the 13th July, the Officiating Chief Commissioner reported that a person had held forth in the public Streets of Lucknow to large audiences of the Natives, informing them that the Tax was illegal and unauthorized, and exhorting them to resist payment of it; that the Police had taken no notice of this, and that he had been obliged to direct that the person should be seized and tried for sedition, and that the District Officers should be instructed to put a stop to any demonstration made in the City against the Tax, and to proceed against any one who should raise his voice against it. On the 20th July, the Officiating Chief Commissioner's orders were approved.

6. On the 18th July, the Officiating Chief Commissioner submitted a report of the whole case connected with the enquiries made by the Police under the orders of Captain Chamberlain. In this report it was shown that Captain Chamberlain had exerted himself to assist the Proprietors of the Oudh Gazette in procuring evidence; that he had encouraged and invited complaints of oppression, and had employed a disreputable set of persons for that purpose, notwithstanding his having, as an Officer of Police, been forbidden to take petitions in regard to the Tax; and that he had not only instituted these unauthorized enquiries, but had taken steps to prevent them from coming to the knowledge of his superiors. The Officiating Chief Commissioner submitted Captain Chamberlain's explanation, but he did not consider the explanation satisfactory, and he stated that Captain Chamberlain's assertions of oppression having been committed were not supported by proof, and that the feeling in the City had never been any thing more than a natural disinclination to pay a new Tax. "Captain Chamberlain," observed Lieutenant-Colonel Barrow, "is an Officer who has performed excellent service. The Officiating Chief Commissioner has had the highest opinion of his honorable character. Successive Chief Commissioners have, within the last three years, more than once acknowledged his services. He bears a name to which it is painful to attach the slightest stigma. Yet the Officiating Chief Commissioner, with the concurrence of his superior, Mr. Wingfield, can only propose what he believes to be an adequate mark of the displeasure of Government for such conduct as his has been, and which has been detailed in this letter, and it is with extreme regret that the Officiating Chief Commissioner asks His Excellency the Governor General to remove Captain Chamberlain from his appointment in the Oudh Police."

7. The Officiating Chief Commissioner was informed on the 28th July, that his letters above referred to were under consideration, and he was desired, with reference to the report of the proceedings of the Lucknow Civil Court in the libel case, which had appeared in the Newspapers, to submit immediately on the conclusion of the trial a full report of the case, with his opinion thereon. It was remarked that one of the Native witnesses who had deposed to the commission of acts of oppression by the Extra Assistant, and by those under his orders, appeared to have been committed by the Court for perjury, and that the Governor General in Council was of opinion that he should be tried on this charge before a Special Judge appointed for the purpose.

Three of the witnesses for the defence were eventually committed to take their trial for perjury, and a Special Judge, Mr. F. B. Pearson, was appointed to try them. On the 4th August, the Officiating Chief Commissioner was informed that the Governor General in Council would defer passing orders on his letters until the receipt of his report on the action brought by Ramdyal against the Proprietors and Publishers of the Oudh Gazette.

8. On the 24th July, the Officiating Chief Commissioner submitted a report on the conduct of Lieutenant Scott, and recommended that he should be reduced to the rank of an Assistant Superintendent. On this letter also the issue of orders was suspended until the case should be complete as regarded Captain Chamberlain, and until the Chief Commissioner's report on the action should be received.

9. On the 31st July, the Secretary to the Chief Commissioner forwarded a letter from the Commissioner of Lucknow, relative to certain assertions, made by Captain Chamberlain in his evidence in the libel case, and on the 10th August, the Chief Commissioner reported that Captain Chamberlain had availed himself of leave of absence for six months granted to him by the Officiating Chief Commissioner, in anticipation of Government sanction, and had proceeded to the Hills on Medical Certificate without taking up his appointment at Sultanpore.

10. In compliance with the orders of 28th July, the Chief Commissioner, Mr. Wingfield, who had returned to the Province, submitted on the 10th August a copy of the judgment of the Court in the libel case, with a detailed report on the circumstances attending the collection of the Trades' Tax in the City of Lucknow, and a vindication of the Officers concerned in it from the charge of oppression.

On the 24th August, the Chief Commissioner submitted a copy of the record of evidence taken in the libel case, with further remarks. The case was decided in favor of the Plaintiff, with Rupees 3,000 damages.

On the 12th September, the Chief Commissioner enclosed, with remarks thereon, a letter from Captain Chamberlain, containing a further statement of his proceedings, and soliciting the appointment of a Commission to investigate his conduct. The issue of orders on this matter was postponed until the result of the trial of the witnesses charged with perjury should be known.

11. On the 3rd October, the Chief Commissioner forwarded the evidence and judgment, and other proceedings in the trials for perjury held by Mr. Pearson as Special Judge. The Prisoners Unjore Tewaree, Jugganath Singh, and Moul Buksh were convicted and sentenced to imprisonment with labor in irons. But Unjore Tewaree was exempted by an order of the Government from that part of his sentence which prescribed labor and irons.

12. On the 15th October, the Assistant Secretary to the Chief Commissioner forwarded the Proceedings and Judgment of the Officiating Judicial Commissioner, Mr. Bayley, in the appeal from the judgment of the Civil Court on the libel case. The judgment of the Lower Court was confirmed by the Appellate Court.

13. On the 20th October, Mr. R. Norris, as Counsel for Unjore Tewaree, addressed a letter to the Government, representing that injury had been inflicted on his Client by some of the Authorities in Oudh, through whose acts he had been prevented from obtaining evidence that would have ensured Unjore Tewaree's acquittal. Mr. Norris asked for a new trial on several grounds, and for the suspension of some Officers in the Commission. He also brought charges against Messrs. Carnegie, Fraser, Bickers and Berkeley, and against Ramdyal.

In reply Mr. Norris was informed on the 31st October, that the Governor General in Council saw no ground for the interference of the Government in the way suggested, but that his Client was at liberty to appeal against Mr. Pearson's decision to the Judicial Commissioner, and that it was understood that he had already done so. The several Officers of the Oudh Commission, against whom he had preferred charges, would, he was told, be called upon to submit their explanations for the orders of Government; but this proceeding would, it was intimated to Mr. Norris, afford no excuse to his Client for delay in carrying forward his appeal. Mr. Norris was likewise informed that the Governor General in Council had then before him all the correspondence relating to the proceedings of the Authorities at Lucknow in the collection of the new Taxes, and that His Excellency in Council only waited to pass orders thereon until the appeal of Unjore Tewaree and the other Prisoners should have been heard and decided, and until the explanations called for in consequence of Mr. Norris's representations should have been received.

On the same date, the above correspondence with Mr. Norris was forwarded to the Chief Commissioner of Oudh, who was requested to call on each of the Officers against whom Mr. Norris brought specific charges to submit an explanation, and to desire Lieutenant-Colonel Barrow to explain a private letter of his quoted by Mr. Norris, in which Lieutenant-Colonel Barrow told Lieutenant-Colonel Abbott, the Commissioner of Lucknow, that if he caught any one uttering a word either in private or public conversation against the Tax, he would bring him forward. The Chief Commissioner was requested to submit these explanations for the information and orders of Government, and also to report generally on the contents of Mr. Norris's letter and its enclosures.

14. The Chief Commissioner has now, in his letters 2223, dated 24th November; 2233, dated 30th November; and 2259, dated 3rd December. Secretary's letters noted on the margin, submitted the explanations called for, with his own remarks thereon, and generally on Mr. Norris's letter.

15. A further letter* has been received, forwarding with the Chief Commissioner's observations, the deposition of a Mr. FitzGerald, regarding certain acts of oppression which, in a letter to the Delhi Gazette, he declared that he had seen practised at Lucknow in connexion with the collection of the Trades' Tax.

16. The Governor General having considered the whole of the papers before him, the general contents of which have been briefly sketched, proceeds to record the following observations and orders.

17. First in respect to the charge of tyrannous oppression and corruption brought against the Extra Assistant Ramdial, and the alleged instances upon which that charge is founded. The Governor General has no hesitation in asserting his deliberate conviction that no acts of oppression are shewn to have been committed by Ramdial nor by Ramdial's orders; and that, as the fullest opportunity was given to his accusers, and the utmost endeavors made by them to establish their case, and as the whole of the testimony brought forward in support thereof was discredited by the Court, and a great part of it proved to be false and perjured, the charge falls to the ground, and Ramdial is personally entitled not only to a full and honorable acquittal but to a distinct expression of the opinion of Government, that this acquittal is in entire accordance with the evidence. This will accordingly be communicated to him through the Chief Commissioner.

The trial of the original action for libel was patiently and impartially conducted by the Judge Mr. Fraser. Every facility was afforded to the Defendants for the conduct of their case; and the judgment of the Court, as well as that of the Officiating Judicial Commissioner, Mr. Bayley, who heard the case in appeal, shews conclusively that the Publishers of the Oudh Gazette were unable to substantiate the charges which they brought against Ramdial, and that so far as those charges against Ramdial are concerned, the reflections which have been publicly made upon the Officers of the Oudh Commission, in respect to their proceedings in the assessment and collection of the Trades' Tax, are destitute of proof.

Whatever was faulty in Ramdial's proceedings is shewn to have been done in accordance with authority permitted to him by his superiors; and his loss of temper on two occasions was insignificant in degree and venial.

18. If any thing were wanting to show the worthlessness of that which appeared at first to be the strongest portion of the evidence by which it was attempted to support the charges of oppression and corruption brought against Ramdial, it is to be found in the record of the trial of the three witnesses for perjury, held first before the Special Judge Mr. Pearson, who was selected from the Judges of another Province for the purpose, and afterwards in appeal before the Judicial Commissioner Mr. Campbell, who had just returned from England. The Governor General has carefully read the judgments of both Courts in these cases, and the evidence on which they are founded, and His Excellency is satisfied that the Prisoners after having had every facility afforded to them for defence, were clearly proved to be guilty of the crimes with which they stood charged, and that they were rightly convicted and sentenced to legal punishment.

The case of these convicted Prisoners will be more particularly noticed presently. In this place the Governor General adverts to the result of the trials for perjury only as it bears upon the charges originally brought by the Publishers of the Oudh Gazette against Ramdial, and establishes the conclusion that those charges were false.

19. But though the Governor General acquits Ramdial of blame, and considers his conduct generally deserving of approbation, and though His Excellency gladly admits that the Tax was assessed and collected in the Province of Oudh with extraordinary freedom from objection or complaint on the one side, and from coercion on the other, and that even in Lucknow the complaints preferred were few in comparison with the number of Tax payers, he regrets to observe that in the City there was an absence of due precaution against abuse of authority by the subordinate Agents employed to levy the Tax.

He cannot approve of the assessment and collection of it in Lucknow having been so largely entrusted to a Native Officer, whose acts, however upright and careful, were sure to be misconstrued, or of that Officer having been left without more explicit instructions as to the course which he should take in enforcing the Tax against dilatory or recalcitrant Tax payers. For whether it were strictly legal or not to search the apartments of women for valuable effects, or to distrain their jewels in satisfaction of the demands of the Government, there is no question as to the impropriety and impolicy of the proceeding in such a case; and the Governor General laments that the prohibition of this course, which the Chief Commissioner issued immediately he heard that it had been followed, (he being at the time absent from the Province), was not sooner thought of. The same observation applies to the confinement of respectable Citizens in the lock-up house of the Tehseel. It may not have been illegal; but to detain such persons in such a place for several days, and for such a cause, was a measure to be resorted to only as a last necessity; and it does not appear that recourse was previously had to any of the less objectionable modes of enforcing the just claims of Government which are familiar to Revenue Officers in other parts of India.

20. The act of Mr. Carnegie, the Deputy Commissioner, in arbitrarily transferring to one Mohulla the amount remitted from the assessment of another, is open to censure. This act has already been reproved and corrected by the Chief Commissioner. But Mr. Carnegie is also to blame for omitting to notice as it deserved, or to report the conduct of his Subordinate, Mr. Berkeley, in illegally chastising one of a crowd of Villagers who came to the Office, perhaps in a disorderly manner, to complain against the Tax. The Governor General knows that both Lieutenant-Colonel Abbott, the Commissioner, and Mr. Carnegie, the Deputy Commissioner, are Officers of approved high character and experience, and he accepts the Chief Commissioner's testimony that there was no supineness in the discharge of their duties; but it is evident to the Governor General that the kind of activity which the occasion demanded in Lucknow was wanting. The Governor General is satisfied that there is no more efficacious mode of reconciling a large Native community to a new and unpopular measure of Government than the free intercourse of intelligent English Officers with all classes, and their frequent presence amongst the people, for the purpose of explaining and smoothing difficulties, and of convincing all that no oppression or abuse of authority will be permitted. The suspicious and excitable population of a great City should be met more than half way on such occasions. But this was not the course followed. The Deputy Commissioner remained for the most part in his Office, and the active enforcement of the Tax, together with the delicate task of making it as tolerable and as little obnoxious to the people as possible, was left to the subordinate Officer Ramdial. Such petitions too as were received were in too many cases referred to lower authority. It thereby was made less manifest than it should have been that power would not be misused, and scope was given to grave misrepresentation on this point.

21. On the whole the Governor General is compelled to say that he fails to find in these papers the evidence he had hoped to see of active and sedulous caution and exertion on the part of the European Officers of the Commission at Lucknow in anticipating or removing all cause of complaint upon the occasion of introducing for the first time a very obnoxious Tax into a large City.

22. Further more, the Governor General remarks with disapproval the tone of levity and disregard of the feelings of the people which appears in Mr. Elliott's report of his investigation of the charges first made against Ramdial, and the omission on the part of the Commissioner and the Officiating Commissioner to notice this.

23. The Governor General now turns to the conduct of the Police in Lucknow. Their proceedings in every grade have been utterly indefensible. Captain Chamberlain is charged with having encouraged and invited complaints of oppression; with having been active in furnishing the Defendants in the libel case with evidence against Ramdial; with having instituted unauthorized enquiries; and with having concealed those enquiries from the knowledge of those under whose authority he was placed. Captain Chamberlain has had one opportunity of explaining his conduct, but his explanation is imperfect and totally unsatisfactory. In his letter of the 14th July, in which that explanation is given, he intimated his intention to submit further details when his Medical Attendant should permit him to give to the subject the attention it deserves, but up to the present time no further explanation of his conduct has been received, though, in a letter from Simla, dated the 4th September, he has solicited the appointment of a Commission before whom he offers to prove Ramdial guilty of gross oppression and tyranny, and to vindicate his own conduct. This Commission the Governor General sees no cause for granting. Captain Chamberlain's conduct in respect to those points on which he has already had full opportunity of explaining it is such as to call for severe condemnation. It affords ample proof that he cannot properly be employed any longer in the Office he holds, and therefore the Governor General is constrained to remove him, although the name he bears, and his previous good service, make the measure a very painful one. But that Captain Chamberlain may have the means of vindicating his character from imputations which, in this correspondence, are cast upon it, and which he may desire further to notice, a copy of all such parts of it as concern him in any way will be furnished to him by the Chief Commissioner, and he will have free access to all sources of official information at Lucknow. On receiving from him, through the Chief Commissioner, such a vindication as he may think proper to make, the Governor General will pass any further orders which may be necessary.

24. After reading the evidence given by Lieutenant Scott on the trial of the libel case, the Governor General cannot treat that Officer more indulgently than his superior, in whose insubordination he was an active and willing participator. Lieutenant Scott might properly feel indignation at the stories he had heard, if he believed them, and he may have been justified in believing them; but when he was called upon to test the truth of these stories, the perfunctory manner in which he performed the duty is inexcusable. That the truth in such a case was more likely to be ascertained by his employing a Native Officer, however high in rank and trust, for that purpose than by active personal enquiry is wholly beyond belief: and the excuse which Lieutenant Scott gives for putting Budden Singh under arrest, and keeping him in confinement for eight days, because he neglected to report that Ramdial had collected the Tax in Nohungabad and had used violence towards the inhabitants, and for omitting to put on record the reasons of the arrest and confinement, cannot be admitted. Lieutenant Scott is removed from his appointment.

25. Lieutenant Clifford has already been removed from the Police for misconduct in another case, wholly unconnected with the one under consideration.

26. The conduct of the Native Officers of the Police next requires notice. Actuated, apparently, by a desire to support a cause which they believed to be favorably looked upon by their superiors, they deceived these with stories of oppression which they knew to be untrue; they induced others to do the same; and finally they perjured themselves before a Court of Justice. These Native Officers are Unjore Tewaree, Jugganath Singh and Moula Bukah. They are now suffering the imprisonment which the Law has decreed as the punishment of their offence.

Unjore Tewaree, a Subadar bearing the Title of Sirdar Bahadoor, and a Member of the First Class of the Order of British India, established in 1857 and 1858 memorable claims upon the consideration of the Government and upon the gratitude of all Englishmen, and he was liberally rewarded. And now, although the Governor General cannot allow any services, however eminent, to shield a man from all the consequences of wilful and deliberate perjury and subornation of perjury, yet in remembrance of the devotion shown, and the courageous assistance given by Unjore Tewaree to his Officers and to others in a time of utmost danger, the Governor General remits to him the remainder of the imprisonment to which he has been sentenced. His Excellency also permits him to retain the pecuniary advantages attached to the Order to which he had been admitted, and directs that an allowance equal to that which he would receive as a Member of the First Class of that Order be continued to him for life. But the name of Unjore Tewaree will be erased from the Roll of the Order of British India; he is hereby deprived of the honorary Title which it confers; its decoration will be taken from him; and he is dismissed for ever from the service of the Government.

Jugganath Singh and Moula Bukah, although they have no special claims on the Government, will share the remission of punishment which has been extended to their superior; but they also are dismissed from the service of the Government.

27. With regard to the charges brought against the Officers of the Commission by Mr. Norris, in his letter of the 20th October, the Governor General observes that they are fully answered in the Chief Commissioner's report of the 24th November. For the most part the charges are either groundless or frivolous, and in every case they fail to establish an intention or desire on the part of the Officers in question to defeat the ends of justice or to prejudice the cause of Unjore Tewaree, Mr. Norris's Client. Equally does Mr. Norris fail to show that, in consequence of the acts of the Officers of the Commission, or from any other cause, any one was deterred from giving evidence against Ramdyal, or in favor of Unjore Tewaree.

28. But there are two other points in Mr. Norris's letter which it is necessary to notice. Firstly, the conduct of Mr. Berkeley, the Extra Assistant, in administering illegal chastisement to one of a party of Ryots belonging to a Village in the Lucknow District, who came to the Lucknow Cutcherry and remonstrated in a disorderly manner against the Tax; and secondly, the private letter written by Lieutenant-Colonel Barrow to Lieutenant-Colonel Abbott. Mr. Berkeley's conduct on the occasion referred to deserves sharp censure. A mere reprimand is not adequate to mark the sense entertained by the Governor General of his misconduct, and accordingly he will be removed from the Lucknow District and reduced to a lower grade.

As regards Lieutenant-Colonel Barrow, the Governor General must regret that the private letter written by him to Lieutenant-Colonel Abbott on the 12th July, dealing as it did with the subject of free complaints of the Tax, should have been so unguardedly worded, and that it should have contained expressions so likely to be generally misunderstood. But the explanation given by Lieutenant-Colonel Barrow and Lieutenant-Colonel Abbott shows that the letter was written with reference to one particular occurrence which had then just happened—namely, a public declamation in the Streets of Lucknow against the Tax by a person who declared it to be illegal and exhorted the people to resistance; that it was written with the sole intention, a thoroughly right and judicious one, of preventing the repetition of such occurrences; and, further, that it could not possibly have had the effect of deterring any one from complaining against injustice or oppression in assessing or levying the Tax, or from giving evidence on any of the trials.

29. It remains to notice the letter written by Mr. FitzGerald to the Delhi Gazette on the 21st November, in which it was stated that he saw two men taken by a Peon across the road in front of the Chutter Munzil to the ruins opposite, and that masses of masonry were placed on their heads. The Chief Commissioner on seeing this letter very properly directed that Mr. FitzGerald should be questioned regarding the statements in it. His answers have convinced the Chief Commissioner that his testimony is, so far as it has been adduced against any proceedings connected with the Tax, unworthy of credit. In this conclusion the Governor General agrees. Whether it be the case or not, that, as conjectured by Mr. Wingfield, Mr. FitzGerald mistook workmen employed in removing, in the way in which such work is usually done, the ruins of the Chutter Munzil and adjoining houses, for persons undergoing torture at the hands of the inferior Revenue Officers, it is not to be supposed that Mr. FitzGerald, being actuated by the motives which he declares in his letter, would, if he had seen what he believed to be an act of such gross oppression, have failed to mention it at an earlier date, and while the trials were proceeding. It is shewn that he was in Lucknow on several occasions during that time; that he was actually employed in the Office of the Judicial Commissioner in copying the proceedings in the trials for perjury at least a week before Mr. Campbell gave judgment on the appeal; and that he was present in Court while the appeal was being heard. Yet he admits that he never mentioned what he had seen to any one, until he wrote to the Delhi Gazette some time after all the trials had closed.

30. The Governor General cannot conclude these remarks without adverting again to the general tone of the Reports of the Government of Oudh. In these Reports there appears to be a very imperfect appreciation of the fact that in this matter the conduct of affairs in the City of Lucknow has given room for scandal, and that discredit has been thereby thrown upon the measures of the Supreme Government for the general imposition and collection of a direct Tax throughout India. It is true that the scandal has been grossly exaggerated, and that the discredit is undeserved; but it is also true that in the proceedings which really did take place, there is scarcely a single error of commission or of omission which might not have been prevented by timely precaution. If Ramdyal had been properly directed, and if complaints against his alleged acts had been more generally taken up and promptly enquired into by English Officers, there would have been little temptation or facility for attacking him in a libel. If, when the libel was published, prompt reference had been made to ascertain its authority, and if the facts alleged had been thoroughly enquired into, there would have been no occasion for Ramdyal to bring an action. If the Police had been properly in hand, and if Captain Chamberlain had been kept to his proper duty, the manifest antagonism exhibited by the Police and the Civil Officers would have been checked, and the consequent loss of character to individuals, which is a matter that concerns the Government little less than themselves, would not have occurred.

Moreover the Governor General is unable to concur in the Chief Commissioner's opinions in respect to the measures taken to levy the Trades' Tax in Lucknow. It is quite possible to realize such Taxes in India without resort to distraint; and if distraint becomes necessary it is an indication either that the Tax is too heavy, or that the arrangements for collecting it are defective. Success in levying the Tax in Lucknow depended upon the care taken in the first assessment, and in promptly hearing and disposing of all remonstrances and appeals. To lighten the assessment on one quarter of the Town and increase it by the same amount on another, was not only an injustice in itself but a direct inducement to resistance. If difficulty were found in enforcing payment, the cause, whether real or pretended, should have been enquired into. There should have been a formal invitation of appeals, and they should have been heard publicly in presence of the neighbours. Recusant parties should have been summoned to the enquiry, and if they failed to attend, but not otherwise, an ex parte but still a formal decision should have been passed. If on such enquiry it had appeared that contumacy was the sole cause of non-payment, there were unobjectionable and efficacious ways of enforcing the demand, by the service of Peons and otherwise, before resorting to distraint: and even if distraint had been unavoidable, it should not have been carried out in the manner in which it appears to have been carried out in the Mohulla of Ashrufabad. To break open locks because the keys are not brought quickly; to expose respectable women to the threats of the underlings of office; to send sweeper women into Zenanas, and to seize the jewels of the inmates of Zenanas, are practices which the Government of India cannot tolerate, and which a Local Government ought not to defend. The upholding of such acts, even where they have been rare and exceptional, as the Governor General believes them to have been in Lucknow, is calculated to destroy the confidence of the people in the justice and considerateness of the Government, and His Excellency desires that it may be clearly understood that they are regarded by the Government of India as indefensible.

The Governor General appreciates the ability with which the plan for the general assessment of the Tax throughout the Province of Oudh was designed, and the energy, combined with good judgment, with which it was carried out. His Excellency especially appreciates the fact that there has been an absence of all complaint against the Tax, or the mode of levying it, except in the City of Lucknow. Even there the petitions against the Tax were, as has been already stated, few. But the general success of the measure, and the prudence and moderation which have, in almost every instance, characterized the proceedings of the Officers entrusted with its execution, afford no reason for passing over defects or for excusing faults which are really without excuse. Nothing is to be gained by doing so. On the contrary the Governor General holds it to be truer justice to the Members of the Oudh Commission to declare that such defects and faults have in these very few instances occurred, and at the same time to establish that they are no necessary accompaniment of the measure of taxation as devised by the Chief Commissioner, and as carried out by the great body of his Officers.

GENTLEMEN,—His Honor the President in Council being desirous of meeting the wishes of the Mercantile Community of Calcutta, as to the publication of fuller information in regard to the financial position of the Government, I am desired to invite you, as Members of some of the leading Firms, to aid in deciding what Accounts and Returns of the Public Revenue and Expenditure it is of real importance to the monetary and commercial interests to have regularly published, and at what intervals; and to intimate to you that, with this view, I shall be prepared, at any time most convenient to you, to shew you specimens of the several Accounts and Returns received at my Office and at the Office of the Accountant-General.

COUNCIL CHAMBER,
The 13th December 1860. }

To C. H. LUSHINGTON, Esq.,
Secy. to the Govt. of India,
Financial Department.

SIR,—In reply to your No. 12108, of the 13th instant, and with reference to the interview with which you have since favored us, we have the honor to place before you our views as to the Accounts and Returns of the Public Revenue and Expenditure which it is of real importance to the monetary interests of the Country to have regularly published.

2. In doing so, we would record our opinion, that whatever publicity in matters of this nature it is important to the Mercantile Community to receive, it is equally important to the true interests of Government to give, as in time a feeling of confidence will thereby arise to which the opposite system of secrecy has hitherto been confessedly fatal.

I. We suggest that the Cash Balances in the Indian Treasuries which are now made public quarterly should be published monthly, in a Tabular form, exhibiting the amount in each Presidency, contrasted with the balance of previous similar periods, and accompanied by a Note, explanatory of any unusual surplus or deficiency.

On this last point we may refer to the Quarterly Statement recently published to 31st October, where the aggregate Cash Balances were less than those of the previous quarter by about four Crores.

To those who are cognizant of the periods at which the heaviest amount of Indian Land Revenue is collected, this large and sudden deficit was no great mystery, but to the ordinary public it was as inexplicable as threatening. An explanatory foot note would have made the Return intelligible to all.

II. That an Anticipatory Estimate, and such subsequent Estimates as may be prepared, of Income and Expenditure be published annually, and be followed up by Quarterly Statements of actual Income and Expenditure, under the same heads, to be hereafter ranged in a form of comparison with the results of corresponding quarters of previous years.

For such an Annual Estimate the headings in the Tabular Statement prepared under the direction of the late Mr. Wilson, and published in the Calcutta Newspapers of the 25th June last, appear explicit and satisfactory, except that among the Revenues and Receipts, the important item of Income Tax will in future be inserted.

III. That a Comparative Statement be published quarterly of balances in the hands of the Home Government of India, distinguishing the Funds belonging to the different Railway Companies.

IV. That the aggregate amount of Returns to the Income Tax, and of collections under it, and the new Stamp Act, be periodically made public.

The Community have patiently, nay cheerfully borne the imposition of these new Taxes, and it would seem due to them that the earliest and fullest information upon their practical working should be accorded. To prove, we trust that the hopes and intentions of the late lamented proposer of such taxation are in a fair way of fulfilment, freshadowing an end to the chronic deficiency under which Indian Finance now labours.

We are aware that the management of this Finance, as regards Account-keeping, may be said to be at present in a transition state, and therefore that such of our suggestions for publication as involve Comparative Statements cannot at once be acted upon, but we trust that, under the new system of Account and Audit, which is being introduced, the paramount importance of such publicity to the interest alike of the State and the Governed will not be lost sight of.

We are also aware that some of the suggestions now put forward have very recently been made by the Chamber of Commerce; but as you had addressed us separately, we deemed it incumbent upon us to reply, perhaps thereby strengthening the representations of that body.

We have, &c.,

FINANCIAL DEPARTMENT.

GENTLEMEN,—I AM directed to acknowledge the receipt of your letter dated the 26th ultimo, submitting your views as to the Accounts and Returns of the Public Revenue and Expenditure, which it is of real importance to the monetary interests of the Country to have regularly published, and in reply to inform you, that the Hon'ble the President in Council, seeing no objection to your first suggestion, has been pleased to direct that the Statement of Cash Balances, hitherto published quarterly, be in future published monthly, in the Calcutta Gazette, in the form proposed by you.

2. Your second request, viz., That an Anticipatory Estimate, and such subsequent Estimates as may be prepared, of Income and Expenditure be published annually, and be followed up by Quarterly Statements of actual Income and Expenditure under the same heads, to be hereafter ranged in a form of comparison with the results of corresponding quarters of previous years, will also be complied with, on the understanding that the publication can only commence with the Anticipatory Estimate for 1861-62, and that the Quarterly Returns can only be given when the new system of Audit and Account has been established.

It has already been explained in my letter to the address of the Secretary to the Bengal Chamber of Commerce, No. 12237, dated the 19th ultimo, that satisfactory Quarterly Returns of the kind applied for cannot be framed under the present system of Account. An abstract of the regular Estimates of 1860-61 will be published as soon as it is complete, and this may be expected next month, and pending the preparation of the more complete Accounts and Estimates referred to above. Such Returns as the present system of Account and Estimate admits of being framed will be furnished as nearly as possible in the form of those published in June last.

3. The third Statement proposed by you for publication cannot be prepared from the Returns at present received from England. I am desired, however, to inform you, that the Right Hon'ble the Secretary of State for India will be requested to supply the necessary information as far as it can be afforded.

4. In compliance with your fourth request, His Honor in Council is pleased to authorize the publication, at once, of a Statement, shewing as correctly as possible the aggregate amount of receipts from the Income Tax and from Stamps; but no distinction is possible in the Accounts between receipts from Stamps under the old Law, and those from Stamps authorized for the first time by Act No. XXXVI. of 1860. Future Returns will be published in the Gazette quarterly.

5. Adverting to the last paragraph of your letter, I am directed to state that copies of this correspondence will be forwarded to the Chamber of Commerce, in reference to their letter of the 14th ultimo, which was received subsequent to the despatch of my letter to your address of the 13th ultimo.

NOTIFICATION.—The 8th January 1861.—The following Articles of the General Regulations of the Bengal Army, prescribing the course to be pursued when Military aid is required by the Civil powers, are published for the information and guidance of all Officers under this Government :—

"Commanding Officers are not to exercise any discretion in granting or withholding Military aid, which may be officially applied for by the Civil or Political Authorities of their Districts, for the maintenance of the peace, or any other emergency, but are immediately to furnish the same, determining the nature and strength of the force which should be employed from a consideration of the duty to be performed; the strength and resources of the party against whom the Troops are to act, and all known obstacles to be encountered, points on which the Civil Authority making application is required to inform the Commanding Officer as fully and circumstantially as may be practicable."

"The Civil Officer is vested with authority to call upon the Military Commander for the services of the Troops under his Command, whenever, in the judgment of such Civil Officer, the public interests of the Government may require such movement; and it is the absolute duty of the Military Officer to whom such requisition may be addressed, whoever or whatever he may be, forthwith to comply with the same. It is not competent to him to enter into any discussion upon the merits of the measure proposed, or to take any equivance whatever of its policy, or justice, or necessity."

"It is for the Civil Officer, and for him alone, to judge of the policy, the justice, or the necessity of the measure. For these he is responsible only to the Government he serves, and he is not called upon by his duty, either to justify his conclusions, or to communicate his reasons to the Military Officer to whom he may address the requisition for Troops. Although such manifestations of confidence and cordiality are always to be desired, he is required, by his strict duty only to state distinctly the service he desires to see performed, and the necessity of Troops for the purpose; and to afford such further information as may be necessary to enable the Officer in Command efficiently to perform the service he is called upon to execute."

"The Civil or Political Officer is not authorized to interfere in any way with the formation or details of the force, the Military Officer being held responsible for the success of the operations to be undertaken, and it is for the latter, and for him alone, to judge in what manner the Troops shall effect the object which the Civil Officer has indicated, and to direct the force in the execution of the service in which it is engaged."

"If, however, the Military Officer should consider his force inadequate for the performance of the service declared, or the service itself impracticable on purely Military grounds, it would be competent to him to decline to accede to the requisition. But in so doing he must be prepared to justify his refusal to the satisfaction of the Government he serves, and whose interests are affected by his acts."

"Whenever Troops are called out under the above circumstances, an immediate report is to be made for the information of the Commander-in-Chief."

I. The name of every Officer, whether Assistant, Deputy Collector, or Moonsiff, who is empowered to try rent suits, must be included in the available agency, whether he may have actually been employed in the decision of suits during the month, or not.

II. The names of the Officers should be given, as well as their designation.

III. When an Officer mentioned in the Statement for the preceding month is omitted, the reason should be stated.

IV. An Officer in charge of a jurisdiction subordinate to more than one Collector, should forward a separate Return to each Collector, comprising the cases relating to his particular District, and the name of such Officer should be included in the Agency of each District, with a note to the effect, that his jurisdiction is comprised within two or more Districts.

V. If a Sub-divisional Statement be not received within two days of the date on which his own should be despatched, the Collector should despatch his Statement without waiting for it, explaining the reason.

BANK OF BENGAL.

HALF-YEARLY REPORT BY THE DIRECTORS.

In last Report the Directors adverted to two distinguishing features which marked the close of the Bank's operations for the half-year ending on 30th June, viz., the amount of unemployed Capital on hand, and the depressed state of trade.

The same remarks are still applicable, but with greater force.

The value of money throughout the entire period which has since elapsed, remained unchanged at the low rates which ruled towards the end of May last. Chiefly owing to an augmentation of Deposits, the amount of Cash meanwhile steadily increased from Rupees 2,36,00,000—the maximum point which it had touched during the previous half-year—until in December it reached Rupees 3,08,00,000. Such an accumulation of coin is unprecedented in the previous history of the Bank. Notwithstanding this extraordinary superabundance of money, no available outlet could be found for its safe employment at remunerative rates. Throughout the whole half-year, trade continued unusually depressed, and large stocks of the leading imports are still held at a considerable depreciation in value.

Concurrently with this state of matters, there has been a marked indisposition on the part of the public to invest in Government Securities, which steadily declined in value. In June last the quotations were for 5½ per Cents 104½, for 5 per Cents 97½, and for four per Cents 81, whereas the relative prices at the close of December stood respectively at 101, 95½, and 79½.

The profits of the Bank for the half-year show a net sum of Rupees 3,51,429-13-8. This amount yields a dividend on the Bank's Capital at the rate of Rupees 6-9-2 per Cent. per annum.

As however the Income Tax now falls to be levied on the profits of the Bank, the Directors have transferred from Reserve Fund to Profit and Loss Account the sum of Rupees 7,543-4-0, and they are thus enabled to declare a dividend of Rupees 6-8 per Cent. free of Income Tax. The usual Warrants will be issued accordingly.

For the details connected with the Assets and Liabilities of the Bank, Profit and Loss Account, and the Reserve Fund, the Directors refer the Shareholders to the annexed statements; and are glad in being able to add that no loss through Bad Debts has been incurred during the past six months.

Since the Directors last addressed the Shareholders both the Income Tax and Stamp Acts have become Law. During the progress of the latter measure through Committee, the Directors were successful in obtaining important modifications in several of its provisions, which otherwise would have pressed injuriously on the ordinary business operations of the Bank.

The questions affecting the Bank in connection with the Currency Bill, which is still before the Legislative Council, continue to receive the anxious consideration of the Directors.

THE 12TH JANUARY 1861.

THE following Bill was read a second time in the Legislative Council of India on the 12th January 1861, and was referred to a Select Committee who are to report thereon after the 16th of April next :—

A Bill to amend Act VIII of 1859 (for simplifying the Procedure of the Courts of Civil Judicature not established by Royal Charter).

WHEREAS it is expedient to amend Act VIII of 1859 (for simplifying the Procedure of the Courts of Civil Judicature not established by Royal Charter); It is enacted as follows :—

2. Every process required to be issued under Act VIII of 1859 shall be served at the expense of the party at whose instance it is issued, unless otherwise specially directed by the Court, and the sum required to defray the cost of such service shall be paid into Court before the process is issued within a period to be fixed by the Court issuing the process.

3. If, on the day fixed for the defendant to appear and answer to a suit, it shall be found that the summons to the defendant has not been served in consequence of the failure of the plaintiff to deposit within the time allowed the sum required to defray the cost of issuing the summons, the Court may order that the suit be dismissed.

Whenever a suit is dismissed under the provisions of this Section, the plaintiff shall be at liberty to institute a fresh suit, unless precluded by the rules for the limitation of actions; or if the plaintiff shall satisfy the Court within the period of thirty days from the date of the order that there was a sufficient excuse for his not making such deposit within the time allowed, the Court may order a fresh summons to issue upon the plaint already filed.

4. When a person arrested under a warrant in execution of a decree for money shall, on being brought before the Court, apply for his discharge on either of the grounds mentioned in Section 273 of Act VIII of 1859, the Court shall examine the applicant in the presence of the plaintiff or his pleader as to his then circumstances, and as to his future means of payment, and shall call upon the plaintiff to shew cause why he does not proceed against any property of which the defendant is possessed, and why the defendant should not be discharged, and should the plaintiff fail to shew such cause, the Court may direct the discharge of the defendant from custody. Pending any enquiry which the Court may consider it necessary to make into the allegations of either party, the Court may leave the defendant in the custody of the Officer of the Court to whom the service of the warrant was entrusted, on the defendant depositing the fees of such Officer which shall be at the same daily rate as the rate charged in the same Court for issuing process, or if the defendant furnish good and sufficient security for his appearance at any time when called upon while such enquiry is being made, his surety or sureties undertaking in default of such appearance to pay the amount mentioned in the warrant, the Court may release the defendant on such security.

5. All questions regarding the amount of any mesne profits which by the terms of the decree may have been reserved for adjustment in the execution of the decree, or of any mesne profits or interest which may be payable in respect of the subject matter of a suit between the date of the institution of the suit and execution of the decree, as well as questions relating to sums alleged to have been paid in discharge or satisfaction of the decree or the like, and any other questions arising between the parties to the suit in which the decree was passed and relating to the execution of the decree, shall be determined by order of the Court executing the decree and not by separate suit, and the order passed by the Court shall be open to appeal. Provided that if upon a perusal of the petition of appeal and of the order against which the appeal is made, the Court shall see no reason to alter the order, it may reject the appeal, and it shall not be necessary in such case to summon the respondent before the order of rejection is passed.

6. An appeal from an order passed in execution of a decree which shall have been rejected as inadmissible under Section 364 Act VIII of 1859, or which would have been inadmissible before the passing of this Act, but which is rendered admissible by this Act, may be admitted on an application in writing to the Court which rejected the appeal or by which the appeal, had it been admissible before the passing of this Act, would have been cognizable, provided the application be preferred within ninety days from the date of the passing of this Act. The application may be written on the Stamp paper prescribed for petitions in the Court to which it is presented when a Stamp on petitions is required.

7. When the land sold in execution of a decree is a share of a Putteedaree Estate paying revenue to Government, as defined in Section II Act I of 1845 (to amend Act XII of 1841, entitled an Act for amending the Bengal Code in regard to sales of land for arrears of Revenue), if the lot shall have been knocked down to a stranger, any co-sharer other than the judgment debtor, or any other member of the coparcenary may claim to take the share sold at the sum at which the lot was knocked down. Provided that the claim be made on the day of sale, and that the claimant fulfil all the conditions of the sale.

8. If the application for the admission of a special appeal be not written on a Stamp paper of the prescribed value, or if it be not drawn up in the manner laid down in Section 374 of Act VIII of 1859, or if it do not contain any ground on which a special appeal will lie under the provisions of Section 372 of the said Act, the Court may reject the application or may return it to the party for the purpose of being corrected. The order for rejecting the application or for returning it to the party may be passed by a single Judge of the Court. When the application is correctly drawn up, it shall be registered in a book to be kept for that purpose, which shall be in the form contained in the Schedule D. of the said Act, and the case shall proceed in all other respects as a regular appeal, and shall be subject to all the rules hereinbefore provided for such appeals so far as the same may be applicable.

9. This Act shall be read and taken as part of Act VIII of 1859.

M. WYLIE,

Clerk of the Council.

No. 7.

Fort William, the 4th January 1861.

Advocate General's Opinion regarding the liability or otherwise, of Officers occupying Government Buildings to Income Tax, on the amount of rent paid by them.

OPINION.

I AM of opinion that Section CXXXI. of Act XXXII. of 1860 is wholly inapplicable to either of the cases put by the Civil Auditor, or the Accountant General of Bombay.

That Section does not in any way exempt from the duties imposed by the Act any profits or income chargeable under Schedule 2, 3, or 4 of the Act. It simply provides that persons who occupy premises for the purposes of habitation only at a rack rent shall not be chargeable (as they otherwise might be), under Schedule 1 in respect of their interest in the land.

Thus, supposing two persons A. and B. severally to hold houses for terms of seven years: and to occupy those houses themselves for the purpose of habitation only, and supposing A.'s rent to be a rack rent, while B.'s (in consequence either of his originally having paid a bonus, or of the rise in the value of the premises after he took an original lease which has since been renewed in his favor, or for some other reason), is only one-half of what the rack rent of the premises would be, A. will be exempt under Section CXXXI. in respect of his interest in his house, while B. will be liable under Rule 7 of Section XCVII. (Part 7), to assessment at a sum equal to his rent as representing his interest in the land.

The reference in Rule 7 to Sections CXXX. and CXXXI. makes the meaning of the Legislature in this respect sufficiently clear. The point is perhaps still clearer in the draft of the Act read a second time by the Legislature. For the present, Sections CXXX. and CXXXI. were then inserted as Rules 6 and 7 under Schedule 1, and immediately followed the Rule under that Schedule, now numbered Rule 7. They were apparently transferred to the part of the Act headed exemption (Part XIII.), because after omitting the requirements in the draft Act as to the tenants described therein, returning the name of the landlord and the amount of their rent (from which the Legislature relieved them at the third reading), those provisions would logically be closed as exemptions from the operation of Schedule 1, rather than as Rules for the assessment of duties under that Schedule.

It follows that an Officer occupying a house belonging to Government, as the abode of himself or his family, can claim no exemption in respect of the rent of such house, or part of a house, from the duties he would otherwise be liable to. Thus, if an Officer's salary be Rupees 600 per month, and he be allowed to occupy a house of Government, the rent of which (Rupees 100 per month), is deducted from his salary, he will be chargeable under Schedule 4 with the duties on Rupees 600 per month, or if an Officer's salary be Rupees 500 per month, but he be allowed to occupy rent-free a house of Government worth Rupees 100 per month, he will be chargeable under Schedule 4, with the duties on Rupees 500 per month; and under Schedule 1 and Rule 7 with Rupees 100 per month, as the actual profits to him of the house.

(Sd.) W. RITCHIE.

The 22nd December 1860.

ORDERED that a copy of the Advocate General's Opinion be published in the Calcutta Gazette for general information.

SATURDAY, JANUARY 19, 1861.

LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL OF INDIA.

THE 12TH JANUARY 1861.

THE following Bill was read a second time in the Legislative Council of India on the 12th January 1861, and was referred to a Select Committee who are to report thereon after the 10th of April next:—

A Bill to amend Act VIII of 1859 (for simplifying the Procedure of the Courts of Civil Judicature not established by Royal Charter).

WHEREAS it is expedient to amend Act VIII of 1859 (for simplifying the Procedure of the Courts of Civil Judicature not established by Royal Charter); It is enacted as follows:—

1. Sections 23, 274, 283, and 375 of Act VIII of 1859 are hereby repealed.

2. Every process required to be issued under Act VIII of 1859 shall be served at the expense of the party at whose instance it is issued, unless otherwise specially directed by the Court, and the sum required to defray the cost of such service shall be paid into Court before the process is issued within a period to be fixed by the Court issuing the process.

3. If, on the day fixed for the defendant to appear and answer to a suit, it shall be found that the summons to the defendant has not been served in consequence of the failure of the plaintiff to deposit within the time allowed the sum required to defray the cost of issuing the summons, the Court may order that the suit be dismissed.

Whenever a suit is dismissed under the provisions of this Section, the plaintiff shall be at liberty to institute a fresh suit, unless precluded by the rules for the limitation of actions; or if the plaintiff shall satisfy the Court within the period of thirty days from the date of the order that there was a sufficient excuse for his not making such deposit within the time allowed, the Court may order a fresh summons to issue upon the plaint already filed.

4. When a person arrested under a warrant in execution of a decree for money shall, on being brought before the Court, apply for his discharge on either of the grounds mentioned in Section 273 of Act VIII of 1859, the Court shall examine the applicant in the presence of the plaintiff or his pleader as to his then circumstances, and as to his future means of payment, and shall call upon the plaintiff to shew cause why he does not proceed against any property of which the defendant is possessed, and why the defendant should not be discharged, and should the plaintiff fail to shew such cause, the Court may direct the discharge of the defendant from custody. Pending any enquiry which the Court may consider it necessary to make into the allegations of either party, the Court may leave the defendant in the custody of the Officer of the Court to whom the service of the warrant was entrusted, on the defendant depositing the fees of such Officer which shall be at the same daily rate as the rate charged in the same Court for issuing process, or if the defendant furnish good and sufficient security for his appearance at any time when called upon while such enquiry is being made, his surety or sureties undertaking in default of such appearance to pay the amount mentioned in the warrant, the Court may release the defendant on such security.

5. All questions regarding the amount of any mesne profits which by the terms of the decree may have been reserved for adjustment in the execution of the decree, or of any mesne profits or interest which may be payable in respect of the subject matter of a suit between the date of the institution of the suit and execution of the decree, as well as questions relating to sums alleged to have been paid in dis-

Procedure on discovery, on the day fixed for defendant to appear and answer, that usual notice has not been served in consequence of failure of plaintiff to deposit the cost of issuing the same.

How questions regarding amount of mesne profits and interest, and sums paid in satisfaction of decrees &c., are to be determined.

charge or satisfaction of the decree or the like, and any other questions arising between the parties to the suit in which the decree was passed and relating to the execution of the decree, shall be determined by order of the Court executing the decree and not by separate suit, and the order passed by the Court shall be open to appeal. Provided that if upon a perusal of the petition of appeal and of the order against which the appeal is made, the Court shall see no reason to alter the order, it may reject the appeal, and it shall not be necessary in such case to summon the respondent before the order of rejection is passed.

6. An appeal from an order passed in execution of a decree which shall have been rejected as inadmissible under Section 364 Act VIII of 1859, or which would have been inadmissible before the passing of this Act, but which is rendered admissible by this Act, may be admitted on an application in writing to the Court which rejected the appeal or by which the appeal, had it been admissible before the passing of this Act, would have been cognizable, provided the application be preferred within ninety days from the date of the passing of this Act. The application may be written on the Stamp paper prescribed for petitions in the Court to which it is presented when a Stamp on petitions is required.

7. When the land sold in execution of a decree is a share of a Putteedaree Estate paying revenue to Government, as defined in Section II Act I of 1845 (to amend Act XII of 1841, entitled an Act for amending the Bengal Code in regard to sales of land for arrears of Revenue), if the lot shall have been knocked down to a stranger, any co-sharer other than the judgment debtor, or any other member of the coparcenary may claim to take the share sold at the sum at which the lot was knocked down. Provided that the claim be made on the day of sale, and that the claimant fulfil all the conditions of the sale.

8. If the application for the admission of a special appeal be not written on a Stamp paper of the prescribed value, or if it be not drawn up in the manner laid down in Section 374 of Act VIII of 1859, or if it do not contain any ground on which a special appeal will lie under the provisions of Section 372 of the said Act, the Court may reject the application or may return it to the party for the purpose of being corrected. The order for rejecting the application or for returning it to the party may be passed by a single Judge of the Court. When the application is correctly drawn up, it shall be registered in a book to be kept for that purpose, which shall be in the form contained in the Schedule D. of the said Act, and the case shall proceed in all other respects as a regular appeal, and shall be subject to all the rules hereinbefore provided for such appeals so far as the same may be applicable.

9. This Act shall be read and taken as part of Act VIII of 1859.

M. WYLLIE,
Clerk of the Council.

I. The Ports in the Concan shall be divided for the purposes of this Act into three groups, namely, Northern, Central, and Southern. The Northern group shall comprise the Ports named in Schedule A; the Central group shall comprise the Ports named in Schedule B; and the Southern group shall comprise the Ports named in Schedule C.

IV. Provided that when any vessel having left any of the said Ports is compelled to re-enter such Port, or to enter any other of the said Ports by stress of weather, or in consequence of having sustained any damage, no Port-due shall be chargeable in respect of such vessel.

V. No vessel shall be required to pay at the same Port any Port-due chargeable under this Act oftener than once in the same calendar month, or oftener than once in thirty days.

VI. For the purposes of Section XLIV. of Act XXII of 1855, the several Ports comprised in each of the Schedules A, B, and C, to this Act respectively, shall be regarded as one Port, and the sums received on account of Port-dues at the several Ports named in each of the said Schedules shall form part of and be amalgamated into separate Funds, which shall be termed respectively the Northern Concan Ports Fund, the Central Concan Ports Fund, and the Southern Concan Ports Fund.
